Congratulations! You have been selected in the corrected RAMROD Lottery and are invited to register for RAMROD 2017. To claim your slot, you MUST register by Sunday April 9th before 11:58pm PDT or your slot will be offered to another cyclist. The link is below, but first, please read this important information.

You cannot gift, transfer or re-assign this invitation. You can only register one person. This token is non-transferable and can only be used by the same person who registered in the March lottery via this email. Please use the same email address when you register (to which this notice arrived).

In some cases, multiple people registered using the same household email. If selected, each was sent a separate email invitation (many are on two-person teams). Note: you cannot register multiple people during the same imATHLETE session.

If you registered as a group/team, you were all individually invited in this same wave. Team members can accept or reject independently without affecting other group/team members (even the captain).

During registration, you will have the opportunity to buy a jersey, order a breakfast or contribute to the Park.

To register for RAMROD, use the following link. The link contains a built-in authorization code that will send you to imATHLETE and to the "Lottery Selected" category.

If you have decided not to ride, simply do not register; but please email the Registrar so we know of your decision and can invite another from the waitlist. We realize a few folks may be out of contact during this registration window and exceptions may be considered on a case by case basis.

If you created an imATHLETE account, you can log in with your email address and password and it will populate many of the fields for you. Otherwise, you will need to fill in everything as though you had never registered.

Thanks for your patience with our initial “glitch”. Congratulations and good luck in your training!
