Welcome!

We're delighted to have you with us for a Santana Adventures cycling cruise, and we're excited to share this adventure with you.

A cycling cruise is a wonderfully different way to see the world. Each day brings a new place to explore, a new ride to enjoy, and the comfort of returning to the same ship, cabin, and friendly faces at the end of the day. Our goal is simple: we want you to feel prepared, relaxed, and ready to have a great time.

The four pre-cruise introduction pages linked below are the best place to start. They'll help you understand how our cycling cruises work, what to expect on the road and aboard the ship, how to make the most of each day's riding options, and the small details that can make your cruise smoother and more enjoyable.

Please take a few minutes to read through each section before you travel. A little preparation now will help you spend less time wondering what comes next-and more time enjoying the ride, the scenery, the ship, and the company of your fellow travelers.

Thank you for choosing to travel with Santana. We're very glad you're coming, and we can't wait to welcome you aboard.
